A Message From Our Principal

To the Class of 2011,

I have enjoyed the honor of serving as your principal for the past three years. During those three years I have watched you grow as student athletes, class and student government officers and most importantly I have witnessed you grow as responsible and caring members of our Weequahic family.

Soon you will be preparing for final exams and you will celebrate with your classmates at your senior prom. Individually you will be acknowledged and your four years of academic work will culminate as you receive your diploma at the Commencement Exercises for the Class of 2011. As you join the ranks of the Alumni of Weequahic High School, I hope that you will be able to look back and cherish your high school years. Most importantly, I hope that you will forever embrace the friendships that you nurtured at Weequahic High School. Congratulations and may God bless all of you!

Your Principal,
Mr. J. F. Tonero

"A Day at Weequahic" is never be boring. Teachers are teaching, students are learning, and a host of other meaningful events occur throughout the building. Students arrive at 8:10 greeted at the door by security. Some students are sleep deprived after a late night of completing homework assignments, updating and interacting on Facebook or talking on the phone all night. You will also find students scurrying to make it to Ms. Perry's 1st block class. Moving through the hallways to block 2 is always an adventure for fear of being caught in an "CODE ORANGE."

Next comes block 3 (LUNCH) everyone's favorite "subject." Laughing, joking and gossiping in the lunchroom, we can only hope these moments will linger on. Tired and full, we slowly move to block 4. That's where you see us watching the clock, anticipating what's going to happen when the bell finally rings. Even though some may not admit it, "A Day at Weequahic" will forever linger in our hearts and souls. I.P. for life!

Weequahic's Royalty!!

Homecoming was such a blast! Especially meeting the Weequahic High School Alumni, most of whom could still remember the school song, "SO HARD TO BE AN INDIAN!" Knowing that Weequahic High School has such an amazing history deepens my appreciation for being a part of the Weequahic family. CONGRATULATIONS to all who participated in Homecoming and most of all to the Weequahic Indians "Soul Bowl" CHAMPS!!! Yes it is "SO HARD TO BE A WEEQUAHIC INDIAN !!!"

~Dekontee Gunone

Being Homecoming King was extremely exciting. It felt good knowing that I was a part of an annual tradition. Too bad I can't do it again. I.P.!

~Kyle McCray Jr.

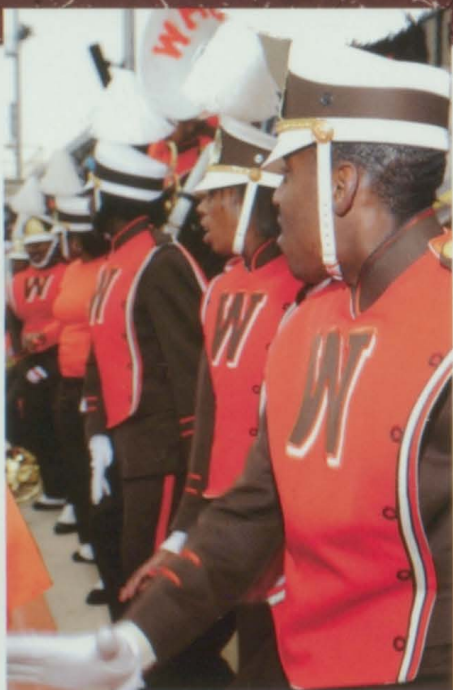

I was extremely happy to win the title of Weequahic High School's 2010 Homecoming Queen. Throughout the entire event I was nervous but I think that made the experience more fun. My advice to the next Homecoming Queen is to savor the moment; never forget it. Even though you may not realize it- you are becoming a part of history; the legacy of Weequahic High School. I.P.!

Coach Al-Tarik White

"Star Ledger's Coach of the Year," Newark Hall of Fame Inductee. "Coach Al-Tarik White has been described as a man of "high standards" and "success." However, to the students, faculty and staff at Weequahic High School, he is simply known as "Coach Wizzy." For years Coach White graced us with his tough love, undying endurance and faithful dedication to the players and students at Weequahic High School. Coach White is quoted as saying, "I don't do this for money, I do this because I get a chance to see young men who have been thrown curveballs in life, swing at those curveballs and maybe even make contact." Over the years, many have witnessed Coach White "bring out the best" in many young men. Whether it was on or off of the football field the influence he has had on youths will remain timeless. For many young men Coach White has become their role model, as well as, their father figure. His ability to mold boys into competitive champions is everlasting.

College Fair

"College Fever!"

Newark Public Schools hosted its 1st Annual College Fair at the Prudential Center. Up to 100 universities and colleges were represented and up to 2,500 seniors in the district's high schools attended.

Weequahic High School's seniors anxiously arrived to the arena with hopes of learning more about their future. Students received help with their personal statements and were able to attend financial aid workshops.

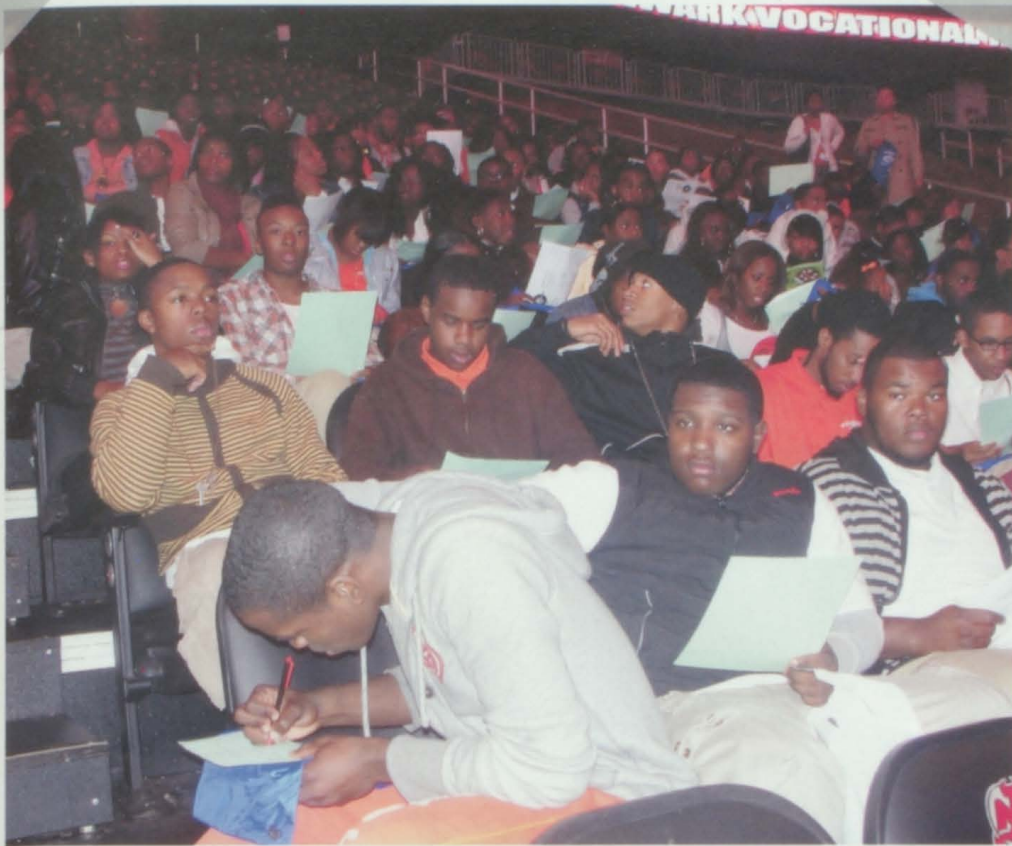

Special thanks to Ms. Bogan, Mr. Falzarano and Ms. Foster for organizing this event and the countless teachers who helped us with our personal statements.

Seniors receiving information to complete their college applications.

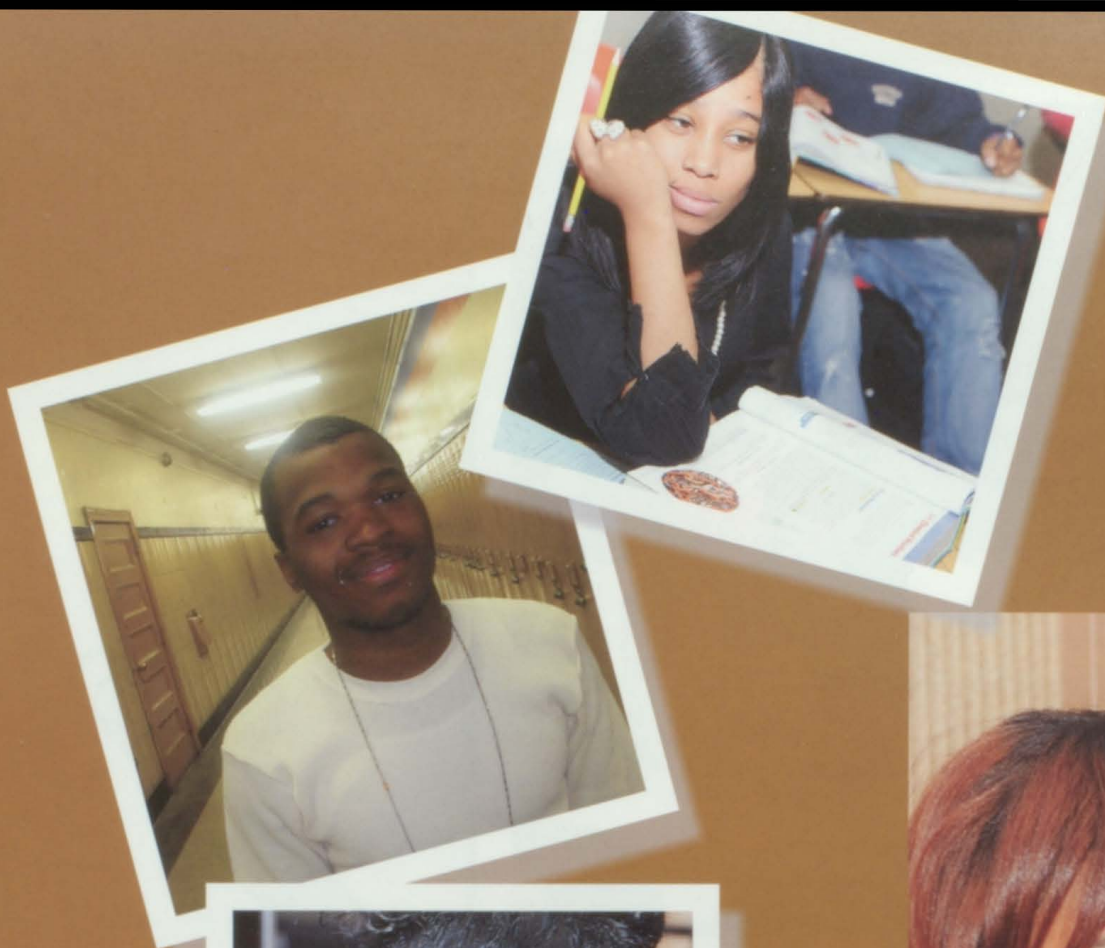

James Bonds and Antoine Butler

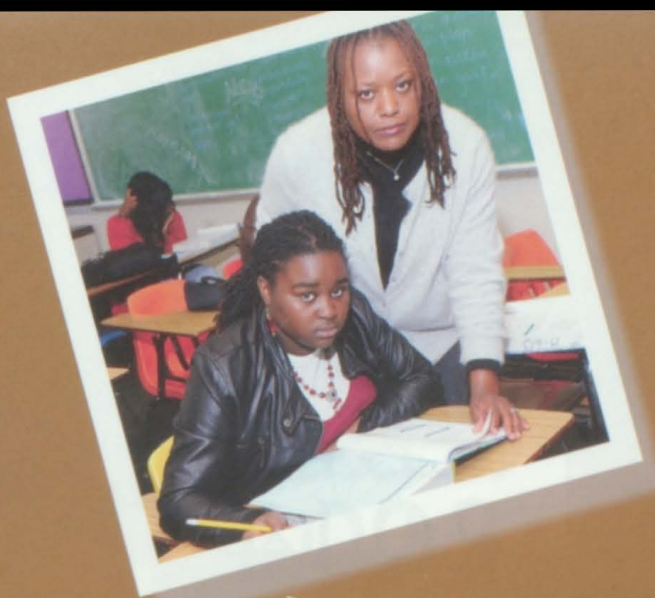

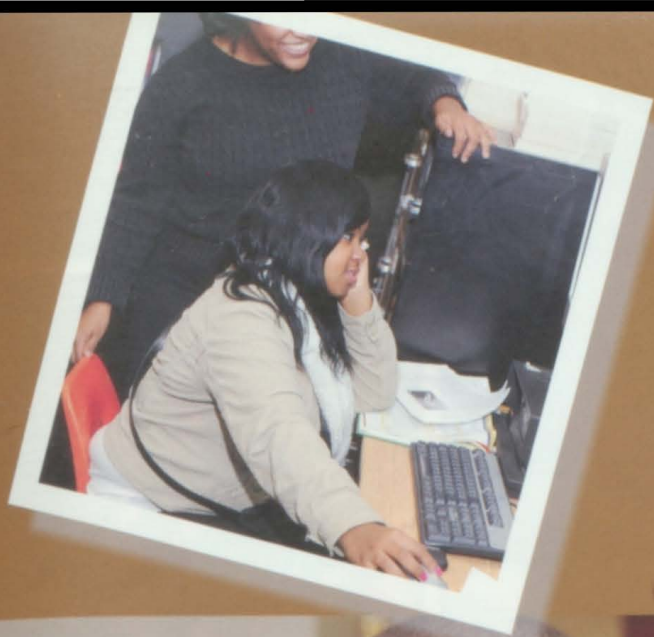

Anxious seniors wait patiently to continue the process of applying to represented colleges/universities.

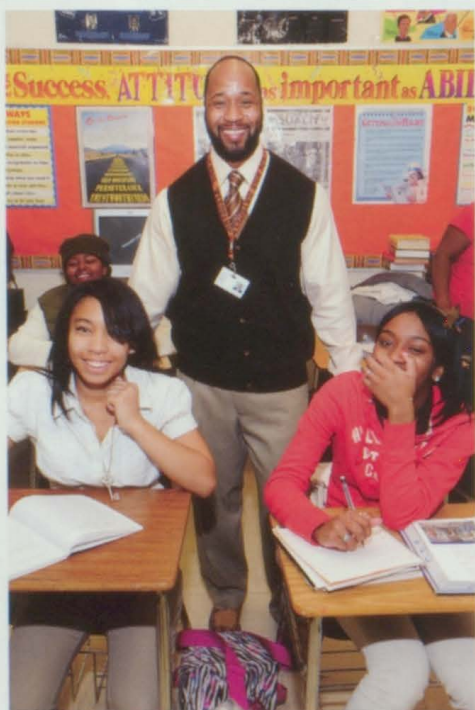

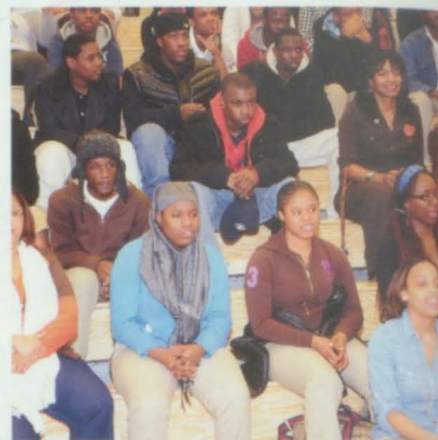

Weequahic High School's Fast Track Success Academy offers an alternative education for many students. Students who were struggling in the 'day school' setting were offered the benefit of transferring to Fast Track. This program addresses all student learning styles and capabilities within smaller classroom settings. With its dedicated faculty and staff this program will allow many students to have great opportunities!!

"Graduation Notes"

Sonia Sanchez

So much of growing up is an unbearable waiting. A constant longing for another time. Another season.

I remember walking like you today down this path. In love with the day. Flesh awkward. I sang at the edge of adolescence and the scent of adulthood rushed me and I thought I would suffocate. But I didn't. I am here. So are you. Finally. Tired of tiny noises your eyes hum a large vibration.

At this moment your skins living your eighteen years suspend all noises. Your days still half-opened, crackle like the fires to come. Outside. The earth. Wind. Unfold for you. Listen to their sounds. They have sung me seasons that never abandoned me. A dance of summer rain. A ceremony of thunder waking up the earth to human monuments.

Facing each other I smile at your faces. Know you as young heroes soon to be decorated with years. Hope no wars dwarf you. Know your dreams wild and sweet will sail from your waists to surround the non-lovers. Dreamers. And you will rise up like newborn armies refashioning lives. Louder than the sea you come from.

"Weequahic High School's Alumni Association's Generous Gift. "

Enjoying the winter sport of skiing, Weequahic High School's Scholars were able to dip their hands in something new. At the Shawnee Mountain Ski Resort, students took lessons from the pros and later made their way up to the top of the mountain. Though some came back with scratches, bruises, and sore spots, all were very appreciative for the experience. Once again, the Weequahic High School's Alumni Association expressed their love and support towards their fellow "Indians." IP!

Holocaust

Survivors

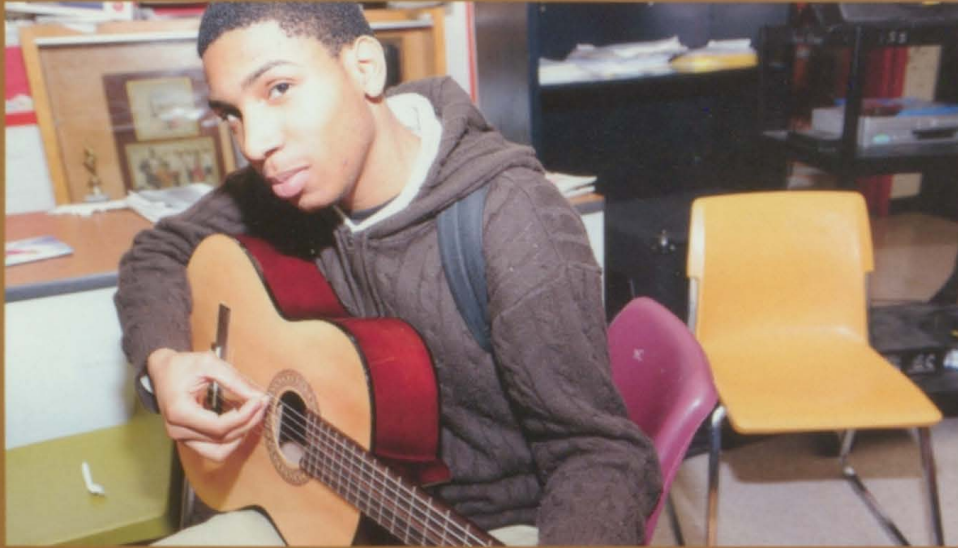

Weequahic High School's Alumni Association, arranged for the students of Weequahic High School to "meet and greet" Holocaust Survivors. Needless to say this experience was enlightening, as well as, heart-wrenching. To sit face-to-face with someone who had experienced the horrors that we've studied in our History classes or read about in our English classes was a moment that will forever live on in our minds.

"Second Generation Dreamer"

Being a part of the graduating class of 2011, I've experienced four "Central and Weequahic High Schools' Men's Day Conferences." However, it was during this year's conference that the young men felt the impact of the powerful orators. The theme of this year's conference was "Manhood." Based on this theme, many anticipated the events and the topics that were going to be covered. A moment that I will remember was when Mr. Ras Baraka spoke. Mr. Baraka said, "Mothers make males but God makes men." For me, this quote was the life of the event. Many of the speakers' goal was to break down the anger and hurt that many young men have against one another. I believe the young men gathered at this conference learned to let go and deal with the many issues we are all plagued with. Special thanks to Mr. Morse, Mr. Worley and all the other "Men of Weequahic!"

Kudos to Weequahic High School's Women's Day planning committee and presenters. These dedicated individuals graced the young ladies of Weequahic High School with their presence. This year's workshops derived from topics such as: Self-esteem, "Dressing for Success," post high school planning, fitness and nutrition, work readiness, as well as, a host of other topics.

As a young lady, the message delivered by the Opening Keynote Speaker, Judge Tiffany Williams, left a huge impact on me. In fact, I believe the message, "It takes a lot of courage to confront a wrongful situation" spoke to many of young ladies.

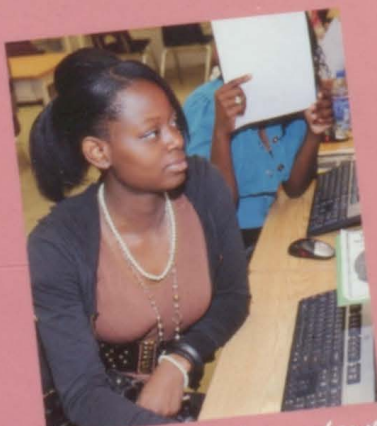

I'm sure that at the end of "Pearls of Wisdom," no one left as they came.

On behalf of the Lady Indians, we were very appreciative to have experienced such a meaningful, heartfelt event.

When thinking of educators such as Ms. McLeod, Ms. Stackhouse, Ms. Perry, Ms. Lorquet and Ms. Sherman, words such as, "admirable," excellence," "outstanding," and "distinction" come to mind. Not only have these distinguished ladies instilled outstanding knowledge within each of us but they have also accomplished these same tasks for our mothers, fathers, aunts, uncles, as well as, our siblings. From those who came before us, we were cautioned about their no-nonsense approach. However, it was through their persistence and endurance that we've received an stellar education. At this moment, we would like to say, THANK YOU to these wonderful women for their time and dedication to the students of Weequahic High School. IP!!!!!!

"Letting Go"
Author Unknown

To let go doesn't mean to stop
caring;
It means I can do it for someone else.

To let go is not to enable,
but to allow learning from natural consequences.

To let go is to admit
powerlessness,
which means the outcome is not
in my hands.

To let go is not to care for, but to care about.

To let go is not to fix, but to be supportive.

To let go is not to judge,
but to allow another to be a human being.

To let go is not to be in the middle arranging all the outcomes,
but to allow others to affect their
own outcomes.

To let go is not to be protective,
It is to permit another to face
reality.

To let go is not to adjust
everything to my desires,
but to take each day as it comes
and cherish the moment.

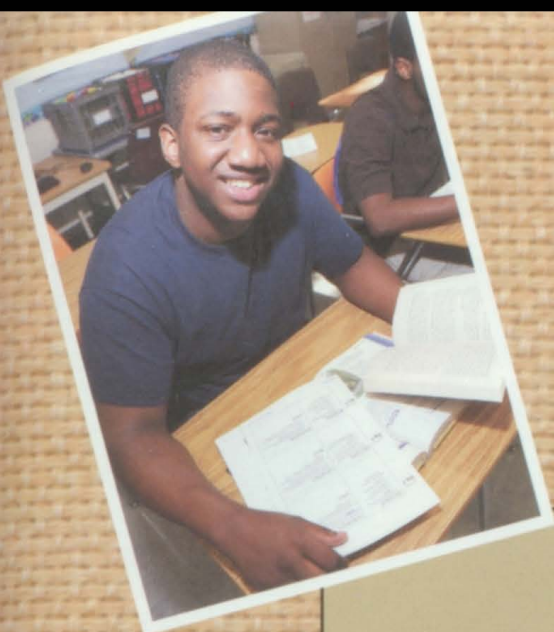

To let go is not to regret the past,
but to grow and live for the future.

To let go is to fear less and love
more.

What happens after 2:40 ?

When the bell rings at 2:40 many students rush home. However, there are those who remain in the building to participate in the many activities that are available. Whether students are practicing for a team, studying, or attending enrichment; Weequahic High School is still in "full effect" well after the bell has rung.

"Students of the Week"

"Honored Seniors"

The 2010-2011 school year ushered in the beginning of the "Student of Week." Students in grades 9-12 were nominated by faculty and staff members. Nominations were based upon effort, academic performance, character, citizenship, uniform and social relationships. Nominees were interviewed and ultimately chosen by the "Student of the Week" Committee. Students were recognized through announcements, the school's website and the "Wall of Fame."

The following seniors were Weequahic High School's "Student of the Week."

Rashad Crawford : Week of Dec. 6, 2010-Dec.10, 2010

Tyrone Mans : Week of January 31, 2011- March 4, 2011

Mark Barker : Week of February 7, 2011-February 11, 2011

Getting it DONE

Although there were a lot of hilarious, memorable moments at Weequahic High School, students had to make sure projects, essays, research papers and various other assignments were completed. Here's to the SENIORS who were "GETTING IT DONE !!!! "

Mr. Hylton and Jestina review an assignment

While participating in the "Structure Learning Experience" program at Newark Beth Israel Medical Center, students Amiral Lovejoy and Malik Hart are gaining life-long skills. Through this program, Amiral and Malik were able to experience the daily routines of what occurs in a hospital.

"I now have a dream of becoming a Pediatrician."

"The program has allowed me to become a mature, responsible individual."

The theme of the Class of 2011's yearbook is "Indian Pride." We were introduced to "Indian Pride" the first day we walked through the doors of Weequahic High School. "Indian Pride" is a feeling of unconditional love. No matter how tough the going gets, we will always persevere. All that's left to say is, "We made it!!!"

The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord: and he delighteth in his way." Psalm 37:23 (kJv)

Continue to follow the path that God set for you and only good will come from it. Your journey will have tests but through God all things are possible.

We lift you in prayer:

Praying that you continue to succeed in your goals, allowing you to read your given destiny. Keep your Faith and know that your family loves you. But GOD loves you most!!

Congratulations on a job well done thus far!!

Love Mommy and Family

Olivia Clark

Olivia, my little silly daughter is now all grown up and ready to fight the world. It's hard to believe the time is near for you to go your own way and live the life of a college student. But it's real and the time is here. God blessed me with you and I'm so happy for that. Keep fighting for the life you want for yourself and be happy. We love you girl. Everyone's little Libby.

My Beautiful Daughter by Julia Copeland

My beautiful daughter-You cannot know how much my heart breaks- as I watch you grow.

In time you'll become independent and free- Always my daughter and special to me.

As you grow older you will see- Through the eyes of a mother- Reflections of me.

Past, present and future all intertwined- My mother, your mother, all daughters you'll find.

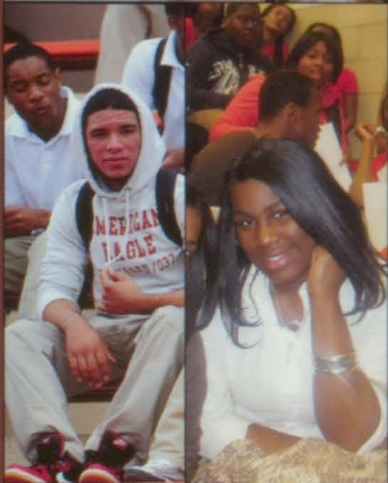

Our reflections, not vanity-Mirrored lives we share. Always a daughter, your mother, who cares.

Love Mommy
